The convention then proceeded to another ballot, which, if the programme of the field against Harrison is carried out will be the last of this session as adjournment will be taken as soon as the ballot has been completed. The second ballot of the day and the fifth of the convention resulted:

RECESS TAKEN.

After the second ballot had been taken Gov. Foraker, of Ohio, moved that recess be taken until 4 o'clock this afternoon. The motion was seconded by Dudley, of Virginia. In behalf of New Jersey Senator Sewell demanded the roll call, which was immediately proceeded with. When Missouri was reached it was so evident that the motion would carry that Senator Sewell, of New Jersey, withdrew his demand for a call and the convention adjourned until 4 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The unsuccessful balloting at this morning's session had the effect of only intensifying the interest in the proceedings of the convention when called to order after recess. The galleries filled early, and in the space reserved for delegates the hum of conversation was incessant. Hardly had the gavel of the chairman fallen upon the desk when King of Maryland moved that the convention adjourn until 11 o'clock Monday morning. The chair decided that the roll of states should be called. When it was apparent the motion to adjourn would prevail a delegate from Alabama arose and enquired whether railroad tickets which expired would be extended. In response the chairman, whose voice is still weak, directed the secretary to state that tickets would be good until the convention adjourned sine die; and when the secretary by inadvertency spoke about railroad passes the convention realized the ludicrousness of the slip, applauded and laughed vigorously. The chairman then announced the vote and the convention adjourned. Following is the result of the call:

An Important Conference.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The conference committee that met at the Grand Pacific last night remained in session until nearly 4 o'clock this morning. They assembled immediately after adjournment this morning in parlor 3 of the Grand Pacific hotel. There was a large representation, comprising representatives of the Alger, Blaine, Allison, Sherman and Gresham forces. This meeting was principally called for the purpose of defeating the Harrison movement to-day. They really did not know the object of the meeting, as Harrison had been practically defeated by the adjournment yesterday. However, after various speakers had addressed the meeting upon the impossibility of nominating any man but Blaine, they appointed a committee to take the situation under consideration and to present to the conference committee a ticket, which if the members saw fit they could report back to their delegations with the recommendation that they support it. A committee was appointed representing the different factions consisting of Dorsey and Spooner for Blaine, Farwell on behalf of Gresham, Dewey for the Blaine movement, Congressmen Hubbard and Clarkson for Allison, Hoit, Mr. Dudfield for Alger, Governor Foster and Hon. Branson Buckwalter for Sherman. The conference committee adjourned this half past two and the committee immediately went into session, Senators Hoar and Quay being present. Senator Quay did not immediately put in an appearance.

The first action was taken by Senator Farwell who, after complimenting Judge Gresham, said that for the sake of harmony he would withdraw his name.

Mr. Dewey addressed the meeting on behalf of John Sherman in an able statement that the committee could report in favor of. At the conclusion of Governor Foster's remarks Duffield addressed the committee in favor of General Alger. Clarkson was then called, and he very strongly urged the claims of Senator Allison. Mr. De Young being called on stated to the committee that he thought they were not there to listen to praise of the different candidates, but to look upon the man that was most available and would carry the country for the party, that the better plan would be to examine into the merits and demerits of the different candidates. De Young stated to the committee the objections urged by representatives from the Pacific coast to two or three of the candidates, setting forth their weaknesses, and concluded by saying there was no necessity of setting forth the claims of the availability of Blaine, as everybody was too well acquainted with him to require that. At this moment Senator Quay came into the room and stated to the committee that New York had decided to support Blaine, and he could not see how the nomination could possibly be avoided. He felt the majority of the convention would be in favor of it. The chairman, Senator Farwell, stated that in any event it was the duty of the committee to recommend some candidate for the conference to support as a body, and the name of Congressman McKinley of Ohio was proposed. The committee was polled as to some candidates, and by a large majority decided that Sherman was out of the fight; that Blaine not being a possibility with the convention it was the duty of the committee to endeavor to select somebody outside of Blaine, and that he ought to be considered by this committee.

The result of this was a protracted discussion. An attempt was made to catechise the representatives present as to their second choice. Duffield, manager of Alger's forces, was asked whom his delegation would support in the event of General Alger being out of the way, to which he replied Blaine. The same question was put to De Young, who stated that his position was different from that of any gentleman present. His delegation was supporting the candidate who, in his opinion, would be nominated, therefore, it was ridiculous to ask him to name a second choice, especially in view of the fact that the candidates represented by the other members of the committee were all practically out of the race.

At this stage of the proceedings Senator Hoar addressed the meeting and said Blaine was very dear to the people of Massachusetts; that they thought very highly of him, and that he could undoubtedly carry his state. He thought Congressman McKinley could also carry it, if he was placed at the head of the ticket.

The Ohio delegation, Governor Foster and General Butterworth, refused to consider that Sherman was out of the fight, for all the committee had so decided. Repeated ballots were taken. On the first ballot in the committee no one candidate received over three votes.

After repeated balloting McKinley received seven out of ten votes. Chairman Farwell turned to Mr. De Young and asked him if he would recommend his delegation to support McKinley, and he replied that he would not; that his delegation had declared for the man who now held a majority of the convention, and it would simply be ridiculous to ask them when they had won their fight to refuse at that moment to vote for him. There was a great deal of discussion, and some that favored McKinley now objected to reporting him to the conference. Mr. Dudfield said if they reported a man he ought to beat Blaine, which McKinley could not do. McKinley had this morning practically placed himself in the same position as Blaine when he got upon a chair in the convention and stated that he was not a candidate for the presidency.

After some more discussion it was finally decided to report two names to the conference, and the second name chosen was Allison. The committee then adjourned to report to the conference. When the conference had to some extent discussed the situation a motion was made that they adjourn the convention immediately, on meeting this afternoon until Monday morning to give time for a thorough discussion of the situation, and it was agreed that each delegate in the conference be instructed to urge their delegations to vote for the adjournment of the convention. It was so ordered.

Tactics of Blaine Managers.

CHICAGO, June 23.—From a gentleman high up in the councils of the Blaine faction in the Chicago convention the following points were learned this afternoon. General satisfaction is felt by those having Blaine's interests in hand at the display of forbearance on the part of the California delegation in managing Blaine's interests on the floor of the convention. Through the efforts of leaders in the party and able management the Californians have so suppressed the Blaine movement in the convention as Depew's Prediction.

CHICAGO, June 23.—While the delegates were leaving the hall Chauncey M. Depew, in the presence of a number of people, predicted that sundown Blaine would be nominated by acclamation and by general consent. The friends of nearly every leading candidate except the supporters of Harrison, Depew said, had already given their consent. The general impression, nevertheless, is that McKinley's chances as a dark horse are rapidly increasing, and the universal prediction is that it will be either Blaine or McKinley.

Blaine and the Comities.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Harrison men labored with Californians this morning to secure their support, but De Young and Raymond could not be budged from loyalty to Blaine. Colonel Raymond, when seen afterward, appeared somewhat disheartened at the outlook. He said: "I and my colleagues of California will stand by James G. Blaine to the last, but there are desperate combinations against him. There is a combine for Gresham, another for Harrison and both are most anxious to down Blaine. There is only one man whom these combinations are more desirous of beating, and that is John Sherman. There was one mistake about the Blaine business and that was that he was not put in nomination. If our boys had known some of the politicians around here as well as I did, Blaine would have been nominated before a single ballot was taken."

California Objection.

CHICAGO, June 23.—At a conference of representatives of Sherman, Alger, Harrison, Blaine and Allison delegates, which took place this morning between 12 and 4 o'clock, M. H. De Young, representing Blaine interests, made the statement that if Harrison was nominated it would be utterly impossible to elect him. He could not possibly carry the Pacific coast, nor would he be able to carry any of the larger states where the labor element predominated, because he voted against the Chinese bill and treaty and every phase of it, and he had committed a still greater mistake of voting to naturalize Chinamen and give them the right of suffrage; and that Allison was in exactly the same boat. The statement of De Young created great consternation. Colonel Henderson, representing Allison interests, made a statement that that he thought De Young mistaken about Allison's record. De Young said he had the records and would produce them to-morrow at the next meeting of the conference. The effect of De Young's statement caused a representative of the New York delegation to make a statement. He didn't think his delegation would support Harrison if these facts were brought before them and he asked De Young if he would appear before the New York delegation to-day and make the same statement. Indiana supporters of Mr. Harrison this morning called on the California delegation and stated that they would not attempt to force the nomination of Harrison until after recess to-day, until this matter can be explained away.

Californians Indignant.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The Californians are exceedingly angry over things that happened last evening. Republicans ladies of St. Louis sent the delegation a portrait of Blaine with a magnificent floral frame. This was taken to the convention hall, &c.

stowed away in one of the galleries ready to be brought out when Blaine should be nominated. Sometime yesterday the sergeant at arms or some of his deputies discovered it and pitched it unceremoniously into an adjoining alley breaking and mussing it. When the Californians realized the fact they were very indignant and Colonel Raymond took occasion to express his mind publicly and in most forcible language on the subject.

Gresham in the Race.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Among the many rumors of withdrawals there came none which obtained more ready credence than one which announced the retirement of Judge Gresham from the contest. Senator Farwell, chairman of the Illinois delegation, was seen this evening and questioned concerning the report. He said: "You can say for me that Judge Gresham has not withdrawn, and as for the entire delegation from Illinois, Gresham has not a more ardent supporter. Such more is a contemplated. We

The latest news is that the combination gales will all go to church to-day and prayerfully consider their duty and their God.

Sherman and Depew were floored up and knocked out on Friday. Harrison had the same experience on Saturday. Apparently Allison will follow suit on Monday. Steve Elkins is a fine bowler.

If balloting had been permitted Friday afternoon it could have been said that Sherman had a chance. If there had been balloting Friday evening, it [illegible] had a chance. But as soon as a candidate shows any strength the combination adjourns the convention. There has been no deadlock. The convention has simply not been allowed to ballot.

The Platt-Hiscock consultations recall the famous consultations in 1882. Hiscock, Crowley and Platt used to meet in Washington to select a state ticket for New York. They looked wise and considered a great deal. They selected Folger, a good man, who was beaten by 200,000 majority. He was defeated simply because the people did not believe in the methods used in his nomination. This is history.

Apparently this is the passage in Ingersoll's speech that is said to have hurt Gresham:

The great question is, who can win? And that great question must be settled at the polls, not in a whirlwind of excitement, but after months of discussion, when the hurrah is out of your ears, and the sense in your brains.

This was considered good talk before the convention, and is the way the people wish the nomination to be made.

GIVE THE PEOPLE A CHANCE.

The republican convention has been in session five days. During this time the leaders have been almost constantly in consultation regarding the candidate. Sherman, Allison, Alger, Depew and Harrison have all been considered. Combinations have been made or partly made, on all of these candidates. But in all these consultations, Gresham has never been considered. Alger, Depew, Allison and Harrison were purely and wholly local candidates. Before the meeting of the convention no one of them had developed any strength outside of his own state. Sherman's long public career, and his ability had given him a certain prestige. Many people felt he would be a safe president. But there was after all no popular feeling in favor of his nomination outside of Ohio. The only candidate who showed strength with the people outside of his own state was Gresham. His candidacy has been the result of a spontaneous movement in the great northwest which struck a responsive chord in New England and New York. The growth of the movement has been a political miracle. There was no organization, no literary bureau to send forth circulars. None of the ordinary methods known to boomers were used. The moment his name was suggested, his fitness as a candidate was apparent to all familiar with his record. His candidacy has aroused the most ardent enthusiasm throughout the west. The laboring men who have been deceived so often trusted him and demanded his nomination. They trusted him not because he had pandered to their communistic views but because as a judge he knew neither poor nor rich, weak nor strong. They honored him for his honesty and independence. The conundrum is why have not the leaders in their counsels considered the candidacy of Gresham, the only candidate who has shown strength with the people? Why have they ignored him and decreed his defeat? It is difficult to answer. If we believe these delegates to be of fair intelligence and loyalty devoted to the best interests of the republican party. They can urge nothing against him as a man, a republican, a judicial or cabinet officer. His record is not only clean, but is also strong at every point. But the politicians can't use him, and they won't allow him to be nominated. These delegates are discharging a trust to the republican party. The whole party is too unwieldly to select its candidate. It has delegated this trust to the members of the republican national convention at Chicago. But it does look as though they had forgotten this. Apparently public office is not a public trust but a chance to trade for personal advantage. The delegates have two duties. They should be loyal to the party in selecting the candidate most likely to be elected. They should also be patriotic in selecting a candidate who will make a good safe president if elected. But these two duties do not seem to be prominent. They are simply looking for a politician's candidate who will be a politician's president. The small politicians who thus far have controlled the convention have made it almost ridiculous. Even in the good old days of the Albany regency Dean Richmond used to allow the New York state convention to ballot and also to name some of the minor candidates. But this convention is not allowed to vote, because these politicians do not agree except in preventing action until they do. If the nomination had been left to the convention for ten successive ballots yesterday afternoon a ticket would have been nominated. It is time for them to remember the people, and the best interests of the party are to be consulted.

WOMEN'S WORK.

Emily Faithfull Describes Women's Work in the Glasgow Exhibition.

GLASGOW, June 14, 1888.

American travellers, however brief their European tour may be, always gravitate to the land of Sir Walter Scott and the lovely scenery so graphically described in William Black's popular novels. This year they will be allured to one of Scotland's biggest industrial centres at the western entrance to the Highlands, and well repaid for any length of time they spend in the wonderful Aladdin's place which has sprung up like magic on the banks of the Kelvin in this city.

The international exhibition which was opened recently by the heir apparent to the British crown is a marvellous epitome of the industrial, scientific and artistic world, under its roof will be found a very complete representation of the products of human genius through out the civilized world. [illegible] magnificent steamers built in the famous Clyde shipbuilding yards are exhibited in the machinery department, which I am told by experts runs very hard the splendid display we had at Manchester last year. Printing press, sewing machines, locomotives, Galloway's patent boilers, copper and brass cylinders in short, machines of all kinds are here, some in full motion, weaving Nottingham lace curtains, pretty dress fabrics, and others producing the well known Paisley and wool [illegible] The fine arts collection is of conspicuous excellence, but challenges no comparison with Mr. Agnew's successful effort at Old Trafford, for the committee were not limited in the pictures of the last half century, and, in other departments we have opportunities for noticing the swift application of scientific ideas to industrial pursuits and the astounding growth of manipulative skill. Here, too, are displayed for the last time the numerous jubilee presents Queen Victoria received from her loving family and loyal subjects; but in this letter I can only deal with the section devoted to women's industries, which was visited by the Prince and Princess of Wales with especial sympathy, both having recognized the importance of encouraging every means by which women's work can be made productive.

The president of the Glasgow exhibition—Sir Archibald Campbell—and his colleagues felt from the outset "the grave responsibilities" entailed by this section, and like wise men they determined at once to summon the ladies to their aid to assist in the arduous and embarrassing task of selection. I am told that if the space allotted had been ten times as large it could have been worthily filled; filled it doubtless might have been, but I think the cause of woman's progress would have been better served had the ladies been less soft-hearted, and kindly included some of the poor specimens of untrained effort which have already found a place in the section.

The hive of admission consisted of the Duchess of Abercorn, Countess of Rosebery, Lady Campbell of Blythswood and Lady King, the wife of the Lord Provost undertook the direction of the provincial committee formed to deal with the British section. Industries of women, and they spared no effort to obtain an exposition of feminine work of a thoroughly representative character. It is refreshing to turn away from the crude and amateurish work which has been admitted to that which is really perfect of its kind, and to lose sight of the "bazaarish" effect, by concentrating your attention on the results of well directed energy.

Specimens of every conceivable kind of work have come from all parts of the world, and from every sort and condition of people. As usual our royal princesses are among their sister exhibitors; the Princess Louise contributes a very clever terra-cotta bas-relief; the Princess Christian a chair in burnt leather work and embroidery; and the Empress Victoria of Germany a cushion, table cover and several paintings. This good lead is followed by several members of the aristocracy; the Countess of Strathmore sends some beautiful church embroideries, Lady Colebrooke a lace flounce, Lady Peel a screen with worked panels, Viscountess Galway a handsome table cloth worked in silk, Viscountess Newport and Lady Lloyd dainty screens, the Marchioness of Hertford some examples of china painting, the Hon. Mrs. Molyneux embroideries on silk, and Lady Trevelyan quilting, and the pupils of the Hon. Miss Fraser of Lovat exhibit some excellent specimens of their wood-carving in the artisan section.

The Prince and Princess of Wales in their hurried walk through this section seemed very delighted with the exhibits where "the artist at work" could be seen; the Welsh maidens in their quaint old sugar-loaf silk hat at "ye old hand-loom" were objects of some curiosity, and the process of brush making interested the prince so much, that he asked one of the operatives how long it took her to make a hair brush. "More than fifty years," was the astounding answer, and then it turned out that the old dame who is nearly 70 is very deaf and very proud of having been employed by Messrs. Hinde and Son, of Birmingham, for half a century, is always anxious to make the fact known, and was quite unable to think the prince's question related to anything else.

The women at work on pillow-lace making at the stand of Mr. Coombs of Bedford arrest attention, especially the little girl with her multitudinous bobbins engaged in making torchon; some of the lace is so fine that the young people decline to learn it and it is done by quite old ladies of sixty. The glove making process is to be seen at Messrs. Copeland and Lye's exhibit; from the many buttoned gloves of delicate hue to the serviceable heavy riding gauntlets. A clergyman's wife, Mrs. C. J. Eliot of Coventry, allows the public to watch her as she handles her wood carving tools, and in some cases will give illustrations of the use to which a needless tin tack can be put in this art. Mrs. Smout shows how seaweed can be adapted for decorative purposes; her "Ocean Flowers" are practically everlasting and will keep in any climate; some of my readers have doubtless seen them used as sachet and toilette decorations, where they are most appropriate, and supply the flowers which embellish our dinner tables in land. In Lady Brassey's long voyages in the Sunbeam she always took these pretty representations for daily use, from Mrs. Smout's well-known shop in Hastings.

The fine space occupied by the queen's home art decorator is the admiration of all artistic souls. Miss Charlotte Robinson has surpassed all former efforts. Her stand is the gem of the section, so harmonious in color, so admirable in design. The writing table she has just patented is as novel as it is useful, all possible epistolatory paraphernalia being packed in the smallest conceivable space, and this dainty bijou table will be as welcome in the guest chamber as in any lady's boudoir. The Princess of Wales has purchased the original ecru table designed by Miss Charlotte Robinson and expressed great admiration for the ingenuity she has displayed therein. Two of her artists have pictures on the line this season at the Royal academy, the work produced in her studio is often imitated, and unfortunately bad copies of some of her designs can be found without going many yards from Miss Robinson's charming exhibit. As you look round the woman's section you cannot feel that her sister, Mrs. MacClelland's revival of an old Indian art has been an unmixed blessing, it is very like Longfellow's little girl:

When it's good, it's very, very good;
When it's bad, it's horrid.

In painting as in literature, directly a lady can hold a brush or pen she thinks herself qualified to bring her crude and untrained work into the world's market, regardless of the fact that good work requires an apprenticeship, and that as Sir Joshua Reynolds told his pupils, labor is the price of solid fame.

It is now somewhat disappointing to find few ladies breaking new ground. There are plenty of samples of china painting, red tiles, wall work, altar cloths, embroidered bed covers, knitting, glass work, d'Oyley's satin screens, but "novelties" are far from numerous. Three or four ladies exhibit some excellent artificial fishing flies. Miss E. Wilkinson, the daughter of the late Dr. Eason Wilkinson, contributes a design for laying out a garden; Miss Carrington, of Queen's Gate, an art carpet; Miss Eliza Turck, artistic mediums; Miss Seaton, a patent "cleat" for cotton reels; Mrs. Nicolas, a netted rabbit net; and Mrs. Stevens, of Lynn, the model of a fishing net.

There is much to admire in the stalls supplied by feminine fingers, German, Dutch, Italian, Norwegian and Swedish. The art embroideries from Ayrshire are very beautiful. The Hon. Mrs. Vernon presented a quilt to the Princess of Wales, worked by Miss Anna Brown, of Dalry, and bearing the monogram of H. R. H., composed of crossed A's, together with the royal crown. The design is surrounded with flowers, the same design being continued to meet the centre work. The deep border is formed of cream velvet, heavily trimmed with silk fringe, of [illegible] design, the whole quilt being lined throughout with pale blue corded silk, and having handsome tassels at the four corners. The quilt is enclosed in a casket of white velvet, with heavy silver mounts.

Mr. Ewart, M. P., has loaned to the industrial fund, has a fine display of Kelly linens, embroideries, torchon lace, and samples of various colored linens made in Irish handlooms. Lady Scott exhibits the industry for which the Island of Harris is famous. The Prince of Wales after a keen examination of the Harris tweed, ordered a bluish grey suit to be made for himself. The Italian peasants in national costume give illustrations of straw working at the looms belonging to Le Cavaliere Cesare Marchini, while the Iachia Industrial school is represented at another stand. The Berlin Leite Verein, of which the empress of Germany is the president, makes a good show in flower making, dress-making and millinery. Mrs. Hanson, of Constantinople, sends Oriental embroideries; the ladies of Jamaica, Montreal and Cyprus are represented. Wonderful dresses with beetle wings are among the specimens of Indian work; the Polish lace by the peasants of that country certainly deserves notice; and France is represented by Brittany embroidery. The exhibits from the Royal Porcelain works, Milton's, and Doulton's, and the needle work from the Royal School of Art, Kensington, to pay special examination.

I recommend my American friends not to lose the opportunity afforded by this exhibition. They will find the Glasgow hotels excellent headquarters and will never repent a week spent among the treasures on view this summer in this city, and will gain new and encouraging conceptions of the possibilities of future progress.

The American Derby.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Fully 30,000 people went to Washington park this afternoon to witness the American Derby. Great interest was taken in it notwithstanding it has been discounted ever since the list of the probable starters was first given out, as the Emperor of Norfolk was regarded a sure winner unless the track was very muddy. He did not disappoint his backers. The field which started was the smallest that ever ran in this event. Following were the starters: Baldwin, Pinkerton, Falcon, The Lion, White, The Chevalier, Emperor of Norfolk and Los Angeles. The Emperor of Norfolk won, Falcon 2d, Los Angeles a close 3d. The Chevalier, White and Pinkerton following. The Lion came last, pulled up. Time, 2:46.

STATE NEWS.

Three large business houses of Pueblo were damaged by fire and water on Friday afternoon.

Judge Harrison contracted an Indian by the name of Skoke Finmeyo to be hanged at Buena Vista on July 15th.

The new Methodist church at Pueblo is regarded as an assured fact. Plans for the church are now being made by a Denver architect.

Crop prospects throughout the state are reported to be very fine by the Field and Farm, which gathered statistics from every county.

Nancy Youngson, who was arrested for the [illegible] Co. and brought to Leadville, has been released on $1000 bail. His physicians state to the court that his health was in a very precarious condition.

Precipitation for May.

In our study of the precipitation in the state for the first half months of 1888, as compared with the normals for previous years, we found a mean deficiency for the period of 0.71 inch. Our reports for May, from thirteen stations, show a great excess over the normal for May. The total excess was 9.26 inches, or a mean excess of 0.71 inch. This cancelling the deficiency previously recorded brings us up exactly to the normal for the first five months of the year.

The greatest excess reported was at Idaho Springs, the comparison being with May, 1887, and showing an increase over last year of 3.62 inches. Hunted, with a two year normal, shows an increase of 3.73 inches. Fort Collins, compared with last year, an excess of 3.69 inches.

The deficiencies recorded are at Pueblo, compared with last year, 2.54 inches; Las Animas, 1.87 inches; Pike's Peak, 1.86 inches and Denver 0.19 inch.

This great excess may be accounted for by the fact that the rapid melting of the snow on the ranges materially increased the evaporation surface and the consequent humidity of the air. The increase of humidity at stations making the observations gives a mean of 6.3 per cent over last year. The same stations showing a mean increase in precipitation over last year of 0.72 inch. Las Animas showing 20.1 per cent of humidity less than last year, also shows 2.08 inches less precipitation for the same time.

In June we may look for a great deficiency from the normal, as the evaporation surface has diminished, and the humidity lowered much below its normal up to the present writing.

Yesterday's lovely weather tempted the tourists to rambles and picnics in the mountains. One of the principal events of this character was an excursion of Cliff house guests to Cascade Canon. The party was composed of Misses. McAuley, Wilson, Wiley, Hulbert, Sproule, Nichols and Decker and Messrs. Merkeldier, McMahon, Graham, Wilhelm, Hunt, Colton and Nichols. They explored the canon, and found it enchanting, and it had the charm of being new to most of them. Tired of climbing, the party sought the grove, partook of a bountiful lunch, and managed to get a good deal of sport out of the occasion. They are particularly indebted to Messrs. McMahon and Gresham for the comfort and safety of the expedition. One of them now has a reputation as an amateur chef and the other rescued one of the young ladies from drowning. The water was only nine and one-half inches [illegible] Cascade Canon water is fearfully cold and the act was truly heroic.

The excursion of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen to-day to Green Mountain Falls and Cascade Canon will be very largely attended. The Midland suburban train will have an extra car which will be run to Green Mountain Falls, and which will be elaborately decorated.

Word was received by telegraph yesterday that the Newton base ball club would be unable to visit this city and, consequently the game scheduled for to-morrow afternoon will not be played. The only games that will occur this week are those with the Trinidad club on the 28th and 29th inst.

An excursion of about fifty people arrived in the city yesterday afternoon over the Missouri Pacific from Leot City, Scott City and Horace, Kansas. The party came in a special car attached to the regular Missouri Pacific express and is accompanied by the Scott City band. Yesterday afternoon the band tendered pleasant serenades to W. E. Metcalf and the GAZETTE and Mail offices. Most of the party visited Manitou yesterday afternoon and will remain in the city until Tuesday.

The Denver Field and Farm, in its issue of last week, contained an article on the crop prospects in every county in the state. The following was given as coming from El Paso county: "Every variety of crop in this county is well reported on. All are better than they have been before. The increase in the acreage planted has been about ten per cent over last year. But few acres are planted to wheat, yet those that are, are doing well, and will beyond doubt yield a bountiful harvest. Twenty-five thousand acres to oats are doing well, 20,000 acres of potatoes are reported good. These are on the hills where but little irrigation is used; 15,000 acres in corn is number one, but a little backward. Timothy now in full bloom is very stout—will yield two tons to the acre at the first cutting. Ten thousand acres in rye, barley and millet are extremely good. Native hay is growing rank. Grazing throughout the county has not been so good as now for twenty years."

A meeting of those interested in the formation in this city of a branch to the Denver Rainane society was held yesterday afternoon at the city hall. A temporary organization was effected by the election of Mr. Judson Bent chairman and Mr. H. H. Selderidge secretary. Mr. F. B. Hill read a circular issued by the secretary of the Denver society in which the objects of the organization were fully set forth, and co-operation solicited in its work from all sections of the state. On motion the chairman was directed to appoint a committee of seven to obtain the signatures of those who may wish to become members of the society. The chairman appointed as the committee Mrs. F. B. Hill, Mrs. C. A. Eldridge, Mrs. M. P. Jump, Miss Touzalin, and Messrs. C. R. Ingersoll, L. R. Chafee and E. A. Colburn. Mrs. Hill was made chairman of the committee, which will hold its first meeting at her residence on North Nevada avenue to-morrow afternoon at half past two o'clock. The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Notwithstanding the fact that the hotel in Manitou Park was totally destroyed by fire suitable arrangements have been made for the accommodation of visitors to the park this summer. A temporary kitchen has been built to the old bungalow which will be used as a dining room. Mr. Thornton has purchased some new furniture and other things needed for the comfort of visitors, and everything will be in perfect readiness for guests by July 1st. All of the parties who had rented cottages previous to the fire have not relinquished them but will occupy them during the summer.

REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND INSURANCE

Special Attention Given to the Collection of Rents, Investments and the Sale of Property.

Insurance Carefully Written in First-Class Companies Only.
Losses Promptly and Satisfactorily Adjusted.

STRANGERS, and others not posted in our Real Estate Market, often ask the question, "Where can I best invest my money to be sure of Quick and Profitable returns?"

1st. I would say, select a locality where you have the most SUNSHINE, the finest view of our GRAND MOUNTAIN SCENERY, etc.

2nd. See that you locate where you can enjoy the best WATER ADVANTAGE that our city affords. A home without water in this country is a desert, and when I say "BEST WATER ADVANTAGES" I mean not only for irrigating purposes, which is very important, but also for all DOMESTIC PURPOSES. Our water supply at present is limited, and unless greatly increased the time is near at hand, if not already here, when every drop will be needed inside present city limits.

3rd. Do not locate where lots are too low in price—Low priced LOTS bring low priced HOUSES, and a PALACE surrounded by shanties will never sell for half its value. Better economize in other ways and secure a lot that will increase in value.

4th. Don't wait until the "Rock Island" comes in and then pay 25 per cent more than present rates.

5th. "Latch" call and see us and we will convince you that "BOULDER HEIGHTS" possesses all the above advantages.

SOMETHING NEW.

Having just received one of the Largest consignements of WALL PAPER that was ever brought to El Paso county, at one time; and in order to dispose of it quick, and to give our patrons a share of the profits, we have concluded to give three grand prizes, that shall be a benefit to every property holder in the county. To every purchaser of a double roll of Paper and Border, for the same amount of paper, we shall give a chance in a GRAND DRAWING for the papering of three parlors in three different ways, the size of the parlor not to exceed 16x18.

THE FIRST PRIZE Shall be for papering, ceiling and walls with the very best hand-made Embossed Paper in our store, the lucky party to select the paper. The wood work to be painted or stained to match the paper.

SECOND PRIZE—The ceiling and walls to be papered with Colored Bronze Paper, wood work painted or stained to match.

THIRD PRIZE—The ceiling and walls papered with a flat paper; that is, a paper without gilt; wood work painted or stained to match.

The mode of drawing will be by tickets, with name and number, put in a box, which will be soldered up and a duplicate of the same given the purchaser. The box will not be opened until the 31st day of July, 1888. Then all tickets shall be placed in a revolving wheel and a disinterested party blind-folded shall draw out one ticket, which shall designate the owner of the first prize. The second and third in the same manner shall then be drawn. m-4-1y
